Focus on our Community

Dwellingup Community Hotel (Ltd)

The Dwellingup Hotel is one of the few remaining hotels owned by the community within Australia. It was originally built in 1911 specifically for use as a commercial hotel. In 1960 the State Government sold the hotel to the Dwellingup Community who formed a company called the Dwellingup Community Hotel (Ltd).

The community has now managed the hotel for 50 years this year and over that time has added motel units to the property. The hotel has just recently completed a major refurbishment of the toilet block and this has enabled a new large alfresco area to be incorporated at the rear of the hotel. This has added a significant new social area to the existing inside bar and outside grassed beer garden. The Directors are now working diligently to achieve further improvements to the hotel and are planning a major restoration of the hotel's outside facade. However, being a community owned asset, the final outcome is yet to be determined by the shareholders at the 50th Annual General Meeting planned for October this year.

The Community Hotel membership base is drawn from people who live within the locality of Dwellingup who buy a $2 share. This enables them to be involved with the future planning for the hotel and more importantly, allows them to be appointed onto the committee and become involved in the allocation of the grants and donations throughout the Dwellingup Community earned from the annual lease the publican pays.

The hotel was listed on the Shire of Murray's municipal register in 1989. It is the intent of the current Directors for the hotel to remain in the community's control for a number of future years.

Dwellingup is fast becoming a destination of choice for weekend day trips from Perth and the Peel region. Hundreds of mature motorbike groups, veteran and vintage cars and day trippers make the most of the easy proximity to travel up the forested roads to enjoy a lovely day exploring Dwellingup and the Lane Poole Reserve. The hotel provides cold drinks, lunch and dinner meals every weekend. There is provision for overnight stays in the motel units or accommodation in the hotel rooms.

For further information regarding the Hotel just drop in one day or contact Bill and Kerry the Publicans on 9538 1056 or email dwllypub@bigpond.com

Pinjarra Massacre Memorial Art Exhibition - Art on the Move

This exhibition shows how the arts can break boundaries and a small town's history can reach a large audience. This project has come about as Nyungar people have no outlet to share this story. Through research over many years, extensive information has been accumulated about the massacre of the Bindjareb Nyungars in October 1834 in the small WA town of Pinjarra. This subject has been the most significant issue in the town for many years and through the research, continued observance of a memorial day and grassroots development ideas, this project concept emerged.

The exhibition will be at the Western Australian Museum (Perth) and officially opened on Friday, 28 October 5.30pm and on display until 12 February 2012.
